Homecoming

Coming home is humanity's secret to finding wholeness – the notion that “home” is both a feeling and a place. It's nostalgia, warmth, conversation and growing up. Home is taking your first steps, learning to ride a bike and drive a car. Home is people being in community with one another, keeping us in step with the craziness of the world around us. See home come to life in our 2024 Industrial Wood Color Forecast, bringing you the leading colors in today's trends for Industrial Wood finishings.

Here, this collection comes to life in 47 beautiful stains and colors along with our exclusive Stain of the Year, Heritage Brown.

Life can be crazy, unpredictable, and unforgiving. Our sense of home reminds us of the ways in which color plays a role in our lives. These colors and stains have been carefully curated across this collection to bring you a sense of warmth and influence new styles that will spark your creativity. This year's forecast incorporates four themes – Renew, Nostalgia, Essence and Flourish. Each tells a comforting story of how coming home inspires us to cultivate our families and invoke calmness and happiness in our daily lives.

As we dive into Homecoming, this year's theme for our 2024 Industrial Wood Color Forecast, we're reminded that no matter what is happening in our lives, home will always be there to ground us.

Natural wood and organic materials still lead in interior design trends today. Homeowners are in search of new and exciting ways to incorporate wood into their homes, seeking a sense of tranquility, peace and serenity. We see wood tones mimicking the colors of nature, easily paired with bright accent colors to create new, heightened experiences in residential spaces. The earthy, warm tones of wood remind us of home, inspiring the theme of this year's Color Forecast, titled Homecoming.

One of the biggest advantages of this trend is that wood finishes are both practical and stylish. Finishes today are much more forgiving to the wear and tear of everyday living, making natural wood a better material choice due to its longevity. Wood floors, window frames and trims made from natural wood offer unbeatable durability, ensuring your design elements will last for years to come. The organic textures and richer tones of natural wood add a sense of spaciousness and depth to any space, especially in a home.

To complement the natural wood, textures play a crucial role in bringing these elements together. Inspired by our theme Homecoming, we hope these finishes invoke a sense of nostalgia and happiness while balancing the fabrication of your space. Balance is important in any space, and achieving that balanced aesthetic takes a keen eye and a mix of wood and natural elements. Look for other natural elements such as stone and metal to create a harmonious and well-balanced living environment.

At DesignHouse, we promote the use of mixed materials and textures in interior design and see this trend prevailing for years to come. This trend not only creates sustainable products but also adds a unique touch of personality to your product line. We hope Homecoming guides you on current and future trends that will resonate with residential markets and inspire a sense of home with the stains and colors you see. Use this forecast to ensure your next collection evokes both comfort and style.

TAKING THE ROAD LESS TRAVELED

Somewhere along the journey of homesickness, we reach a turning point from the past and become aware of the present and future ahead of us. The third theme of this collection, Essence, takes an organic approach on the road less traveled with earthy tones and neutral finishes on oak, hickory, poplar, elm and bird's eye maple. Driven by the comfort we seek from the past, this collection complements blue and green hues, giving a renewable feeling to the home.
